WALTER H. WOOD, MAYOR

Fifty-first Annual Report

OF THE

CITY OF ROCHESTER

NEW HAMPSHIRE

For the Year Ending December 31st
Nineteen Hundred and Forty-two

The Record Press, Rochester, N. H.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

by Mayor Walter H. Wood

Gentlemen of the Council:

As we enter upon our duties as the agents of the people of Rochester, elected to conduct the affairs of our City through this new year, we are aware that these are not normal times; the conditions we encounter are unusual conditions; the problems we will face will be unusual problems. America is at war. The whole world is at war. Our country and her allies are struggling with every resource at their command to break the power of evil and oppression which has gone berserk in Europe, Asia and Africa. Our nation is in this war not alone to aid her allies and to liberate those peoples abroad who have already been enslaved, but the fight is for the preservation of the very lives and liberty of our own families.

Under these circumstances neither the people in this community nor the people in any other community on this continent may now conduct their affairs with regard only to their own convenience and welfare. Each proposal we consider, each act we perform must be weighed in its relation to the national program. It may seem wise to break some precedents or depart from some customs which may have been established with wisdom in more normal times. It may become necessary to curtail some services to which we have become accustomed. Whatever changes, whatever sacrifices the national emergency may require, be assured, gentlemen, the people of Rochester will understand, they will approve. However, insofar as consistent with the national program, we must conduct the business of the City in a normal manner, efficiently providing for the health, safety and convenience of all the people we serve. But as conditions are today, scarcity of materials, equipment and labor may definitely prevent what in normal times might even be considered to be necessary expansions of our several services, and even though not entirely blocked by these conditions it will probably be wise to postpone most new construction programs until we find more favorable circumstances.

I would now call briefly to your attention, for your consideration, a few conditions and problems which confront the several Departments this year.

The Committee on Water Works should consult with the Superintendent and become familiar with the situation that exists in our Water System. It is extremely doubtful if they should recommend or sanction any extension of the service of this department, unless necessary to meet the needs of the defense program, until, by some means, the source of supply is augmented, as the delivery part of the system has already been expanded about to the limit of the present supply. Careful, detailed study of this situation will be made, with the authorization already given, and with the information gathered in this study, it can be determined what, if any, changes in the system should be made, and plans can be formulated for action at such time as it may seem necessary and wise.

There has been much discussion relative to the order of the State Board of Health that the City of Rochester, and certain industrial plants, must take action to abate the nuisance caused by the emptying of untreated sewage into the Cochemco River. A serious situation unquestionably exists, and the problems arising from it can only be solved after thorough and competent investigation of all phases of it. Such an investigation has been authorized, and you will be fully and frankly informed of all the data gathered by the survey and of any recommendations which may be made, and the Mayor and Council working together will determine the most satisfactory solution to these problems.

In my several previous contacts with officials of the State Board of Health, I have found them to be very fair minded gentlemen, and I am sure that in this matter they will be reasonable and considerate and will not expect or wish us to take any action which would be disadvantageous in the present national emergency.

Fortunately the affairs of the Water and Sewer Departments have been ably administered and we find these Departments well equipped at a time when tools and equipment are very difficult to obtain.

Now when we are considering the possibility of air raids and of fires started by incendiary bombs, our Fire Department assumes even greater importance than usual and we must be alert to the needs of this branch of our defense organization. The Committee for this Department must work closely with the Fire Chief so as to be familiar with the personnel and equipment and keep the council informed of their requirements.

Our Police Department is another branch which must be maintained at a very high degree of efficiency and many additional duties devolve upon this department in connection with the defense program. The Police Committee must bear the responsibility for us in the maintenance of this organization at the high standard required in these times and they will find it necessary to cooperate very closely with the Marshal in the administration of his department.

The Committee on Roads, Bridges and Drains, with the Street Commissioner, should inspect and keep familiar with conditions on our highways, and I recommend that sufficient maintenance work be done to prevent undue deterioration of our roads, bridges and drains, and that our roads and sidewalks be kept passable and safe during the winter months, and that insofar as practicable new construction be postponed until more favorable conditions exist.

Our School Department must be maintained even in time of war and as prices are advancing on practically all items of equipment and supplies, and as rising living costs point to salary adjustments, we may expect to have to consider a larger budget for this department. Examination of pupils in the schools has shown the need of a great deal more attention being given to the care of the teeth. This finding has also been corroborated by the experience of draft board examiners. In the Spaulding High School a dentist's chair and dental tools were provided with the hope that this need might be met. I will recommend that there be included in the annual budget a sum of $250.00 for the purpose of operating a dental clinic for all Rochester school children, regardless of what school they attend.

The Overseer of the Poor has provided for all needy applicants, distributing the funds appropriated where his investigation has shown the most good would be accomplished. It will be necessary to provide funds this year to continue the work of this department, as nearly all of those requiring this assistance are children and unemployables whose condition has not been changed by general employment increases.

The Finance Committee, in preparing the budget for this year, must take into consideration the present emergency and estimate the amount of money necessary to carry on our part of the defense work, in addition to the ordinary operation expenses, which should be kept as low as practicable.

The Purchasing Committee will need to exercise unusual care this year in procuring materials and supplies and I recommend that they consult with department heads very soon and investigate sources of supply, availability and prices of materials and probable price increases. Competitive bids should be secured whenever practicable and purchases made at such times as seem most advantageous.

Our Public Library has recently been enlarged and improved, but we must not let our interest wane or feel that all has been provided that will be necessary for a long time. In this as well as in all departments of the City we must be continuously conversant with requirements so that funds may be distributed where the greatest good can be accomplished for the greatest number.

The Committee on Public Buildings should inspect all buildings of which they have charge and make sure that they are properly cared for and that necessary repairs are made to prevent undue deterioration. This committee should also determine if the arrangements in the buildings are satisfactory or if alterations ought to be made to provide for better or more economical use of them.

I believe it to be an unwise system which requires the dismissal of a man, competent and experienced in the care of a building in which the operation of delicate or complicated heating equipment is involved, merely because of a change in political administration, and I am sure that no one of you will criticize if in my appointments I do not follow such precedent.

Gentlemen, under our City Charter the administration of the fiscal, prudential and municipal affairs is vested in the Mayor and the Council, who sit and act together and compose one body, and in their joint capacity are denominated the City Council. Therefore, we must work together; the Mayor does not act independently and without the knowledge of the Council, and the Council does not act independently and without the knowledge of the Mayor. Your Mayor assures you that you may expect his cooperation, and the Mayor expects your cooperation.

In conclusion, may I remind you and myself that we are here, not to govern, nor to rule, but to serve. The voters representing the 12,000 and more people of this City have selected one of themselves to act as mayor and eighteen of themselves to act as councilmen, that we whom they have thus chosen should do the things which the whole group of citizens would be too unwieldy to perform. It is the whole group we represent and serve, not any restricted locality, faction or party, and we must remember that we must all work all the time for the welfare of all.

And now, as we undertake these tasks which lie before us we can be confident that with honest, sincere endeavor and with the help of Almighty God we will produce results of which we need not be ashamed.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen:

I present the following report in the form of Balance Sheets and Schedules which reflect the financial condition of the City of Rochester as of December 31, 1942, together with supplementary and supporting statements and tables.

The report is submitted in the same general form as has been the custom for several years, and is as follows:

First: The Report of the General Municipal and Budget Accounts. This includes reports of all special Non-Revenue Accounts, carried on outside the Budget Operations. These are shown in schedules thirteen to nineteen inclusive.

Schedules three and four reflect the results of the Budget Operations for the year; the first showing a complete statement of all Budget Revenues and Charges, and the second a comparison of the estimated budget as set up by the Council in its appropriations for the year, and the actual budget as reflected in the final statements.

Schedules five and six are an exhibit of the Cash Receipts and Disbursements. The accounts of the City are carried on an Accrual rather than a Cash Basis, and these two exhibits, therefore, do not necessarily compare in every detail with all items shown in schedules three and four. They are submitted as a matter of information only, and to show the amount of cash actually received and disbursed through the year.

Second: The Report of the Trustees of Trust Funds.

Third: The Report of the Water Works in the form prescribed by the Public Service Commission of the State of New Hampshire.

The Funded Debt shows a decrease of $40,965.19.

No new indebtedness has been created during the year.

The decrease is accounted for by the retirement of the following obligations:

Water Construction Notes	$7,000 00
Sewer Construction Notes	3,000 00
Public Improvement Notes	2,000 00
Sewer and Water Construction Notes .	3,065 19
School Lot Notes	8,000 00
Fire Equipment Notes	1,400 00
Highway Construction and Equipment
Notes and Bonds	10,000 00
Public Library Notes	4,000 00
City Hall Notes	2,500 00
		$40,965 19

The Funded Debt as of January 1, 1943, is $164,228.13 divided as follows:

Water Debt (Payable from Water Revenue)	$57,669 99
Municipal Debt (Payable from Tax Levy)	106,558 14
	$164,228 13

The Budget Operations for the year show a balance of Revenue over Charges of $14,836.47, after charging to 1942 revenue $7,528.04 of unexpended appropriation balances, which have been carried to 1943 accounts.

Respectfully submitted,

J. S. TRIPP,
City Accountant.

REPORT OF CITY MARSHAL

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen: I hereby submit for your approval the report of the activities of this department for the year ending December 31, 1942.

The year 1942 was a momentous one for this department and you, as elected representatives of our citizens. Through your foresight and desire to give the citizens the best possible police efficiency, the equipment of this department is now second to none in the state.

The installation of the two-way radios in both cruisers has greatly increased this efficiency in answering complaints, accidents, etc., while saving the city considerable expense in gasoline and tires.

While maintaining the work of the department to the highest possible degree of efficiency, one obligation to the citizens and to you, has not been overlooked, that is an effort to keep the operating expenses at the lowest cost possible without hampering this efficiency.

I would recommend the temporary appointment of two men to replace Officers Thomas Redden and Vane Nickerson, now serving in the armed services. Extra work now confronting this department makes necessary the selection of these two replacements.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Honorable Mayor, Police Committee, and City Council for their cooperation during the past year.

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the trustees of the Rochester Public Library December 31, 1942, it was voted that the reports of the secretary, librarian and treasurer be presented to the city council as the annual report of the trustees for the year 1942.

J. STACY TRIPP,
Secretary.

REPORT OF LIBRARIAN

To the Board of Trustees of the Rochester Public Library:

Gentlemen: As we review the work of the library for the year 1942 we realize that new occasions have brought forth new duties in our library world. The year has proved that the library is not merely a place where we may find entertainment and reading for our leisure hours but it is a treasure house of information as well.

Someone has said that "It is books—that have been the real second front in this war—and will continue to be long after the hangmen of Europe are tossing on the same line." It is "the front which gives the most complete report of the agony of today and helps to shape the meaning." With this thought in mind books concerning the war have been well to the fore in the additions of the year. Technical books of every kind on every useful subject have been a close second; mathematics, from arithmetic to trigonometry, civil service aids, typewriting, stenography, books on nutrition and first aid, hobbies and vocations and kindred subjects have found a place on the list of books purchased. The weekly war map with all important events of the week noted with their geographical situation have kept the readers in close touch with affairs week by week.

While a large proportion of the $1,288.65, which has been spent for books, has been devoted to these practical books, those readers who are anxious to keep up with the books of the day have not been forgotten, neither has the lover of romance, mystery and adventure, drama and poetry. A fair division as to types of reading has been preserved.

In addition to the 816 books purchased and the 54 volumes of magazines which were bound for reference, 368 volumes have been received as gifts. Eighty-seven volumes selected from the library of the late William Wright and 79 from the library of the late Mrs. J. J. Abbott. Among these volumes were many replacements, many needed duplicates and a small representation of classics in the original, especially adapted to students. From the library of the late Sidney B. Hayes came 28 volumes of bound magazines, the gift of Mrs. Hayes. Other donors were Miss Gladys Drew, George Hannon, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lincoln, John Shaw and Roland Thornton.

The number of volumes in the library at the present time, exclusive of 1,837 volumes in the Franklin McDuffee Memorial room, is 39,240. Only 12 books have been destroyed or discarded during the year.

We have been glad to welcome back for reference work many of the high school and upper grade pupils. With the hundreds of up-to-date handbooks, dictionaries, and encyclopedias in the reference room and the ever ready assistance available, the young people who do not find their way to the library are losing much from their educational privileges.

Twelve thousand six hundred and twenty-one readers and students have been counted in the rooms. How many have come and gone uncounted none can say.

We regret to again announce a drop in circulation. When one realizes the number of our young men who have joined the armed forces and the number of older men and the women who are busy with war work of one sort or another, the reading of books has to be regarded as a means of escape from more serious things and many of our readers have become students. A reader who formerly read several books each week now finds time for only one or two. The hunger for books and reading still exists and the demand for books will come again.

The records show that 76,103 books were given out from the main library, 3,984 from the Gonic branch and 1,837 from East Rochester, making a total circulation of 81,974 for the year.

In the biennial report of the State Library Commission, issued in 1940, Rochester held the fourth place in circulation among the public libraries of the state although eighth in population. In the last biennial report, giving the various circulations of 1941, Rochester had dropped to the sixth place. This was due to the fact that the library was closed for one month of the year while the repairs on the building were completed.

The children's room has been a busy and most attractive place, crowded though it is, with books everywhere. The various activities and the observance of special days and weeks, together with a successful summer reading contest have been carried on under the direction of Miss King, the children's librarian. Seventeen thousand three hundred and fifty-six books have been given out to children and 2,562 readers counted in the room.

This room is also headquarters for the selection of required books for students. Selection is made from lists provided by the teachers although the majority of the books are given out at the main desk.

The library has endeavored to do its bit in the war effort. Books have been collected and forwarded to camp libraries; the rooms have been used as needed for defense workers and nutrition and first aid classes. Required books, war pamphlets and posters have been exhibited and every possible assistance given to war workers.

Each member of the staff has been faithful in her own part of the work of the year, thus making a perfect whole. Enough cannot be said of their faithful and efficient service during the three months of enforced absence of the librarian. I would speak especially of the splendid work of Miss Foss and Miss Baril, the assistant librarians who assumed the responsibility of the work, every detail being carried out, carefully and most efficiently, with the advice of Mr. Tripp, the secretary.

My gratitude goes out to them and the other assistants as well as the Board of Trustees for their kindness and consideration.

I would also at this time express sincere appreciation to the donors of books, periodicals, plants, flowers and money who by their gifts have shown their appreciation of the library.

In order that you may have some idea of the work of the year your attention is called to the table of statistics which follows.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIAN E. PARSHLEY,

Librarian.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Rochester School Board:

The report now submitted is the tenth under my supervision and the fifty-first in the series. It will be as brief as possible and yet will present the principal topics of interest pertaining to the operation of Rochester schools.

Increasing demands on the public schools of America give ample proof of the substantial place they occupy in our public life. The wisdom and sacrifice necessary for their maintenance are fully justified. Due recognition of the strategic position and function of public schools is evidenced by government requests for special services in the present emergency. In our own schools we have helped in four rationing programs besides modifying high school work to meet specific pre-induction requests. Such modification has been made in physics, shop work, mathematics, physical education and an entirely new field of pre-flight aeronautics. In times of unusual need, our government has enlisted the support of those institutions in whose ability to render efficient service it has confidence. High officials have urged that the educational front be not neglected because we can lose the war on that front alone.

Although the program of training for war production is not a regular high school offering by the City of Rochester, it is conducted through the cooperation of the School Board in the school shop. In that program over two hundred people have been given training preparatory to employment directly in government plants or in industries engaged in war production. The entire cost of the course is met from Federal appropriations administered by the State Board for Vocational Education. In late September we enrolled the first women trainees. The number of women in training has steadily increased until they now outnumber the men.

An experience of nearly two years has revealed procedures and practices that seem to offer significant values in our regular high school methods. In another part of this report you will be given a detailed account of how we are trying to adapt our methods to get some of those values. We have not yet accepted girls in our regular school shop classes but it is by no means too imaginary to anticipate such action. Nothing should be overlooked that promises to add to efficiency in the preparation of our young people to meet the demands of adult life.

Throughout the school year of 1942-43 it is our policy to omit every unnecessary evening use of the high school building in an effort to save fuel. For that reason no plans were made for the usual evening school sessions or the adult recreation program. When war conditions no longer exist both opportunities should again be offered to the people of Rochester.

For the first time in many years, the School Department is operating on a definite and workable salary schedule. Candidates for teaching positions can now be told exactly what salary their previous experience entitles them to receive and what they may eventually earn. So long as the adopted schedule is followed there is no need for uncertainty or for bargaining with its almost inevitable dissatisfaction. The present schedule appears to be fair both for the city and for the teachers. One of the best features of the salary schedule is that it was drawn up in consultation with a committee representing the Rochester Teachers' Association.

Rochester teachers were asked to express their preference in the method of salary payments and, by an overwhelming majority, chose the 52-week plan. That plan became effective in September, 1941. Since then several teachers had expressed disapproval which indicated that another expression of opinion might well be sought. Accordingly, in November, 1942, another vote was taken with the choice very decidedly in favor of the 52-week plan. A total of 62 votes showed 51 favoring the present plan while 11 wanted their pay on a 38-week basis. It is interesting to note that every elementary teacher voted for salary payments spread over the entire year. Contracts for another year may well be written for 52 weeks rather than for 38 or 37 as now stated.

Since schools closed in June, 1942, we have had several changes among our teachers but none of those changes can be attributed to dissatisfaction with contract terms. The financial position of Rochester teachers now compares very favorably with others throughout the state. A list of teachers who have withdrawn from Rochester schools since the last annual report was written is here given together with the names of the replacing teachers.

*Robert S. Barney replaced by Irene Wentworth Wight.

*Carl G. Bartlett

*Lewis L. Montrone replaced by Leroy W. Jackman.

Paul R. Doe replaced by Benjamin Mooney.

J. Edward Harvey replaced by Wilfred W. Creteau.

Helen R. Stever, Allen 3, replaced by Phyllis Bliss (transferred from School Street School).

Phyllis Bliss, School Street 3, replaced by Bernice Stinson.

Ida B. Meader, Maple Street 5, replaced by Blanche S. Boucher.

Muriel E. McAllister, East Rochester 5, replaced by Ruthe J. Hanson.

Arline I. Woodward, School Street 6, replaced by Jeanette Saigh.

The three men above whose names are starred left Rochester to enter military service and were granted leave of absence for the duration or until they are no longer needed in the armed forces. Their positions will be open to them when they return. Teachers elected to succeed them have accepted election with that understanding. Both Mrs. Ida Meader and Miss Arline Woodward were given leave of absence for the school year of 1942-43.

Laurent A. Bosse and Mrs. Alice Eddy did regular substitute work in the high school from the beginning of the term. Mr. Bosse concluded his services November 25 when he left to enter military service. Mrs. Eddy will probably continue until the second half-year begins. Induction of men into service and the lure of higher incomes in private and defense industry have dealt much more kindly with us than with many other school systems.

While the adoption of a new salary schedule has done much to spare us many of the unfortunate experiences which beset school departments during World War I it is too much to expect that we shall permanently escape them all. Every change in teachers, regardless of the cause, results in at least temporary loss to the school and to the classes. The extent of that loss depends on the quality of replacements available at the time when hurried choices must be made. Past experience has shown that periods of emergency usually find those of superior ability preparing for industrial rather than professional careers. Since September, 1942, our high school has seen many changed assignments which have tried the patience of both teachers and pupils but all concerned have shown a spirit of tolerance and understanding.

The year 1942 has given both teachers and pupils ample opportunity to render public service. The importance of public schools, due to their wide community contacts, was recognized and utilized in four rationing programs. Rochester teachers conducted rationing for sugar, for gasoline twice, and for fuel oil. It will be most encouraging if the strategic functions of our school system are not forgotten as soon as the need to use them disappears. The attitude of teachers everywhere seems to be one of satisfaction that they are thus able to share directly in those measures designed to promote the public interest.

Pupils of all schools have participated in the scrap drive to obtain much-needed metals for war purposes. They were thus made to feel that each one can have a part in supporting our war effort and, at the same time, to experience the satisfaction of cooperation within the school. Throughout the entire year our pupils have been generous buyers of war stamps and bonds. The collective effort of all schools is one in which we may all take considerable pride.

In October, all Rochester schools participated in the collection of worn but usable garments for underprivileged children in our own country and in England. The campaign known as "Bundle Day" produced 44 bags and 10 cartons of wearing apparel which was forwarded to New York for distribution. The interest and enthusiasm of our young people gave proof that they have a spirit of sympathy and generosity which finds its true expression in helping others. We believe they will be better men and women for the part they took.

An interesting experiment is being tried in the 1942-43 organization of high school work for juniors and seniors. All of their work is laid out on a semester basis instead of a yearly basis as formerly. They are taking two subjects in each semester but for double the time while such work is being done. By this plan, they will complete the same number of units as when four subjects were scheduled throughout the year. The plan now being followed grew out of our experience in national defense classes where such fine results have come from intensive work. Since a modified form of intensive study could be arranged for regular high school classes, it seemed worth while to extend the same benefits to them. The principal advantages of semester organization appear to be:

- (a) Less confusion for pupils than when four units are completed together.
- (b) More thorough teaching is possible.
- (c) Work can be better planned and adapted to those capable of widely different rates of progress.
- (d) In the extended teaching time better supervision by the teacher reduces difficulties the pupils would otherwise encounter alone.
- (e) Much complicated home work should be greatly reduced.
- (f) There is a saving of time which would be lost in change of classes if such changes occurred every period.

Before this new organization was effected, teachers were consulted and in a thorough discussion of the proposal they were asked to advance any objections they might see. No serious defects were foreseen and every teacher concerned agreed that it would be a potentially valuable experiment. Teacher experience since last September, as well as pupil reaction reveals no serious criticism to date. At this time it is too early, however, to state definitely whether the same program will be recommended for the coming year. The only consideration for our guidance is what we believe to be for the greatest ultimate good of those who so soon must assume the duties of adult life.

In the state-wide review of school transportation several compulsory changes were made in the Rochester set-up. Since gasoline and tire rations depend on State Board of Education approval it was necessary to meet rather exact requirements before existing contracts were certified. In general, transportation over distances less than two miles is not approved. However, there is no objection to transportation for shorter distances if it is included in mileage which must be covered anyway. The Rochester School Board reluctantly altered five of our seven transportation routes so that many pupils who were formerly picked up at their homes now have to walk distances up to three-quarters of a mile to meet the bus. Others are required to walk the entire distance to school if that is less than two miles. Our local transportation will undoubtedly be subject to careful revision when the war emergency is passed. The criterion for such revision should be actual justifiable need and not volume of clamor or vote-getting possibilities.

Throughout my period of service in Rochester I have consistently recommended the same attention to school building maintenance that would be given to my own property. The School Board has been generous in the acceptance of those recommendations. The condition of all schools is now such that future repair work can be done when it is needed without too great cost and school surroundings are more pleasant for pupils. For the duration of the war we shall have to postpone our program of beautification of grounds but it should by no means be forgotten. The very necessary change in plumbing at School Street School will likewise probably have to be postponed although every effort should be made to take care of it next summer if possible. We may confidently expect sound business principles to be the basis of future maintenance programs.

Detailed reports in special fields have been submitted by the School Nurse and the Headmaster. Their reports are herewith presented. You are respectfully urged to give careful consideration to the matters discussed in them.

My conclusion is an expression of thanks to all those members of the Board who have labored constructively to advance the interests of Rochester schools. Let us never forget that the public schools are the most important single responsibility of any local unit of government. They mould the citizens whose privilege it will be to build on the foundations we lay.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR S. ROLLINS,
Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF HEADMASTER OF HIGH SCHOOL

February 9, 1943

Mr. Arthur S. Rollins, Superintendent of Schools
Rochester, New Hampshire

Dear Sir: I herewith submit my seventh annual report as Headmaster of the High School.

ENROLLMENT

Grade	7	8	9	10	11	12	P. G.	Tls.
Sept., 1942	134	123	177	146	155	130	7	872
New Pupils	7	7	12	3	1	6		36
Withdrawals	7	4	26	9	15	5	5	71
Feb., 1943	134	126	163	140	141	131	2	837
Feb., 1942	116	156	173	162	141	128	6	882

Our September enrollment of 872 students is a loss of 58 from our 1941 enrollment of 930. Withdrawals to date numbering 71 students leave us with 837 students or 45 less than we had a year ago. The reasons stated by children for leaving school this year are as follows:

Moved out of town,	24
Employment,	35
Armed forces,	7
Ill health,	2
Home conditions,	3

The impact of the war and changed conditions of employment are noticeable in the above figures. It is to be expected that this situation will continue for some time to come, particularly when our eighteen year olds are called into the Army. We may expect that about twenty of our present Junior class will be drafted before next fall. Moreover, we may anticipate that more of our students will be attracted by current high wages into employment.

If, however, labor should be conscripted by Congressional Act, many non-essential jobs will disappear and this in turn may tend to keep in school some students who otherwise would leave.

TEACHERS

Since the opening of school in September, we have lost the following teachers: Mr. Montrone, Mr. Bartlett, Mr. Bosse, and Mr. Grierson, all of whom have entered the Armed Forces.

As these men have left, it has not always been possible to replace them with teachers in the same subjects. It has, therefore, been necessary, as each man has left, to reassign teachers and students. This condition has resulted in disruptions to the work which, though unavoidable, have slowed up the instruction. This is to be regretted, but it is my expectation that we should not lose more than three or four additional teachers through the Selective Service or otherwise from now on.

NEW PROGRAM FOR JUNIORS AND SENIORS

As a result of a study of the training program used by the Federal Government in preparing workers for Defense jobs, an attempt has been made this year to speed up and concentrate our work in the upper two years.

Year courses have been reduced to semester courses while the daily periods of study and recitation have been made twice as long. Each student has studied two subjects each semester instead of four subjects for an entire year.

We have felt that the advantages of this plan may be as follows:

1. The student concentrates his energy and interest in two fields at a time rather than in four.
2. The student spends more time each day on a given subject.
3. Failures may be more readily made up in the same year.
4. Longer periods make possible more teacher direction and supervision of the study process.

We have now been operating under this system since September. Five months are probably too soon to determine whether or not more learning occurs with this plan than with the former one. However, teachers have felt that in the science and shop classes particularly, the longer periods have resulted in very much better progress. It would appear that teacher supervision of periods of study as a part of the regular class meeting is more economical of time both of teachers and pupils than the system formerly used.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Army and Navy has found it necessary during the past year to spend considerable time in building up its men physically before it could start their technical training. It has seemed to us that in part, at least, this condition could be improved if the schools could undertake programs of physical training while these boys are still in school.

This need became even more evident when the Army announced the need for younger men immediately following their completion of the current semester of school work.

These facts, together with certain others, caused us to expand our program in physical education this year. With teacher time limited, the juniors and seniors only have received this training, although we feel that there is need for training also for the freshmen and sophomores. The work in grades seven and eight hasn't changed, but all juniors and seniors have been given two periods per day for a semester of physical training based upon outlines prepared by the Army and suggested for high school students under the Victory Corps plan.

Complete physical examinations have been given to students before participation in the program and those physically unable to do the work are excused by a doctor's statement.

The expanded program has proven its worth and students show progressive improvement in ability to perform the exercises and other activities carried on in the classes. They should be in good physical condition when they enter the armed forces.

When we are able to provide similar training for our freshmen and sophomores, we shall then have a complete six-year program of physical education, probably the most important contribution which we could give to the development of our children, since health and physical stamina are fundamental to everything which one does in life.

THE HIGH SCHOOL AND THE WAR

While it is essential that the schools carry on as in normal times because it is just as important to give our boys and girls basic training now as ever before, on the other hand, we have been asked to undertake a wide variety of activities, all of which have to do with the war effort. All of these activities are important and they probably provide worthwhile experiences for our children, but they do tend to divide energy of teachers and students alike. To this extent they replace other activities and it requires careful planning to insure that both old and new fall into balance and that neither one suffers.

On different occasions during the past year we have been engaged in the following.

1. Construction of model airplanes for use by the Army and Navy.
2. The Sale of War Savings Stamps and Bonds.
3. Collections of scrap rubber, metal, silk stockings, victrola records, tin cans, and books.
4. Rationing registrations for sugar, gasoline, fuel oil, canned goods.
5. Computation of fuel oil rations.
6. First Aid classes.

It may be expected that there will be a continuation of these activities and that others of a similar nature will be requested of us. If these responsibilities which have been given to us will help win the war and if they will release others to do more essential work, we shall be only too glad to carry them out and at the same time encourage our students to do all that they can to help.

Early in the year, the Federal Government urged us to participate in the Victory Corps program, and later we were requested to offer several pre-induction courses to our boys. However, we found that many of the suggestions made could be incorporated in our program as revised for this year as follows:

1. All shop boys in Grade 9 have taken Algebra.
2. All shop boys in Grade 12 have taken Advanced Mathematics and Trigonometry.
3. All shop boys in Grade 11 have taken Physics.
4. Aeronautics is being given again this year.
5. Shop courses and science courses have been modified to satisfy requirements of Federal pre-induction courses.
6. Physical Education program has been expanded.

From time to time during the year, announcements of various opportunities in industry, post-secondary institutions, governmental positions, and training programs in the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps have been sent to us with requests that this information be made available to our students. We have tried to cooperate in all of these matters, but it has not always been clear as to what would be best for our students.

Many of these propositions are designed to meet changed conditions brought about by the war and they have tended to create confusion in the minds of some students. Best advice seems to have been in general to indicate to children the value of completing their high school education before they considered other opportunities either in the armed forces or in industry or in higher education.

However, parents should be made acquainted with some of the opportunities which may be available to their children either now or in the immediate future.

1. Many of the colleges will now accept high school students even before they have completed four years of high school work. Credit for the college work is given by the high school so that a high school diploma may still be received by the student.
2. The two Teachers Colleges of New Hampshire will now accept our seniors before graduation on a plan similar to that stated above.
3. The University of New Hampshire is prepared to accept high school students at the end of their sophomore year in its special Agricultural Course designed to train students for farm work in the present food emergency.
4. The Federal Government has announced its intention to provide training for high school boys and girls in defense training courses outside of regular school hours in certain designated centers in New Hampshire.
5. Many attractive Federal jobs under the civil service are continually being announced for students who can pass civil service examinations in commercial subjects and in certain fields of mechanics.
6. The Army and Navy still have some training programs open for enlistment to boys who can qualify.

7. Nursing requirements for New Hampshire hospitals have been materially modified so that an ambitious girl can qualify easily in the last two years of her high school course.

It would appear that there are plenty of opportunities open to our young people today, but common sense suggests that other than in exceptional cases, the student should remain in high school until he has graduated.

THE CAFETERIA

Attached to this report is the financial statement of the Cafeteria for the school year 1941-1942 as well as a statement of condition from September 1, 1942, to January 1, 1943.

It will be noted that the Cafeteria was operated during the year 1941-1942 at a loss of $272.15. For the two years previous, our profits were respectively $294.93 and $201.04. Last year, however, new equipment was purchased totaling approximately $200.00 and this, together with increasing costs, resulted in a loss. Income and costs over the three years of operation are as follows:

Year	Income	Costs
1939-1940	$9,193 14	$8,976 38
1940-1941	9,092 61	9,036 69
1941-1942	10,301 75	10,668 48

Commencing with September, 1942, however, our volume of business has been much greater so that as of January 1, 1943, our position was stronger than at any previous time with a cash balance of $583.49 and an inventory of $188.72.

STUDENT ACTIVITY ASSOCIATION

As in the past certain activities of the Association have had to finance others. Music, Dramatics, and basketball made enough profit to offset losses in the other activities. A deficit of $388.84 in football carried forward from 1940-1941 was reduced to $204.55 in 1941-1942.

Respectfully submitted,

CARROLL W. PEAVEY,
Headmaster.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSE

To the Superintendent of Schools:

I herewith submit my report as School Nurse for the year of 1942.

Routine health services were carried on in all of the schools. The children were given a physical inspection, weighed and measured, and visual accuity tests were done. The audiometer was loaned the Rochester schools by the State Board of Education and all of the pupils of grades 3, 4, 5, and 6 had their hearing tested.

In the spring of 1942 a large number of children were absent from school due to an epidemic of mumps and measles. Since that time there have been very few cases of contagious diseases.

Due to the transportation problem an Orthopedic Diagnostic Clinic was organized at the Frisbie Memorial Hospital under the direction of the Crippled Children's Division of the State Board of Health. Drs. Ezra Jones, Carl Friberg, and Simon Stone are the attending physicians. These doctors are specialists in their field of work and they examine all of the children referred to the clinic and advise treatment. A number of these children are referred to the Orthopedic Physio-therapy Clinic held at the Spaulding High School every other Monday. The children are treated at the school by Mrs. Carrie Price, R. N., Registered Physio-therapist, and Miss Anne Lally, R. N., of the State Board of Health.

In May, 1942, a Tuberculin Skin Testing Clinic was carried on at the Spaulding High School under the direction of the New Hampshire Tuberculosis Association. Two hundred twenty-one juniors and seniors availed themselves of this splendid opportunity. The students who reacted to this test were X-rayed and examined by Dr. Robert Kerr of Manchester.

It is with pleasure that I am able to report that the work at the Rochester Dental Clinic was resumed during the fall of 1942. The dentists of this city worked two half days each and it was possible to complete necessary dental work on the children of grades 1 and 2 who were unable to afford to go to their family dentist for treatment. I feel that this work is very valuable and it should be continued each year. The need for better dental care has been very evident in the examination of the draftees for the armed forces.

A physical examination was given to pupils in grades 1, 7, 11, 12 and all new students entering our schools. The juniors and seniors were examined because of the intensive course that they are taking in physical education. This service has been very valuable as a great many defects have been diagnosed and treated which would not have been found in a nurse's regular inspection. Dr. N. K. Chesley, School Physician, has generously offered to carry the examination through more of the primary grades.

At this time I would like to express my appreciation in behalf of the children of Rochester to the local charitable organizations and the Red Cross Motor Corps for their many kindnesses.

I want, Mr. Rollins, to thank you and the teachers for the cooperation I have received during the year of 1942.

Respectfully yours,

NORA C. SCAHILL, R. N.,
School Nurse.

INAUGURAL ADDRESS

January 6, 1943

by Mayor Walter H. Wood

Gentlemen of the Council:

In order that the affairs of the people of Rochester should be conducted in an orderly and efficient manner, a City Government has been established; rules of conduct and procedure have been ordained. These rules apply alike to all the people; they are to be administered without fear or favor, without regard to position or influence. This is Government of the People.

The rules and institutions of our Government are intended for the benefit of all the people. In your deliberations concerning amendments or additions to and administration of these rules, you should consider their effect on the welfare of the whole people, and your every act should be for the benefit of the whole people, and not for any clique, faction, party or bloc. This is Government for the People.

The people of the City have chosen from among themselves men to represent them in their City Government. We, who have been elected by them to these responsible positions, are here to serve them. We are responsible to the people; we are answerable to them for our conduct in the positions we now hold, and not to any individual, faction or group. We stand here in the stead of and by the will of the people. This is Government by the People.

Twelve months ago a statement of policy was presented to the Council. It was a policy dictated by unusual and critical conditions throughout the world.

All members of the City Government in 1942 accepted the responsibilities imposed by wartime conditions, and in a very fine spirit of cooperation carried out their duties in harmony with that policy. That policy, which requires that all of our acts be weighed in their relation to the national program, must be continued through 1943. In general, expansion of the several services provided for the public must be postponed, not only because of the scarcity of labor and materials now, but because it will be necessary to have such projects after the war to furnish jobs to our boys when they return.

Our first consideration this year will be how best we, in Rochester, can serve our country in these trying times. The term, "Our Country," embraces the land in which we live—the people, the institutions, the form of government. Democratic governments in many other lands have been given up as failures. The recent trend, generally, throughout the world has been toward stronger, centralized governmental control, frequently to the point of dictatorship. Besides this tendency, in wartime people must relinquish many of their individual rights and personal liberties. Even though bending our every effort to war-time activity, we must give some thought to the future, that we may be prepared to meet the problems that even now confront us and endanger our democratic institutions, and that must be met and solved at the close of this war, if we are to retain government of, for and by the people.

These, you may say, are national problems that must be dealt with on a national scale, and have small place in our local considerations. If this is our attitude and the attitude of people throughout the nation, the problems will be handled by a stronger and stronger centralized government, which eventually may become a dictatorship. These problems are our problems. If we solve them locally, we but do our part in performing the functions of free people in a democratic government. If every city and every town throughout this land plan and act wisely, performing their full functions as self-governing units of a democratic government, the major problems will be solved, and the danger of losing the advantages of our democratic institutions will be gone.

Our City is progressive. Our people are awake. They are familiar with the rights, the privileges, the duties of the electorate in a free government. May not we with clear vision look to the future and plan with all the wisdom with which we are endowed to meet the conditions which we know must come? May not we chart a course that others may well follow? When the post-war problems come, problems of re-adjustment, of reconstruction and relief, may it be said, "There is a city whose people foresaw conditions that would exist; accepted their full responsibility; planned to meet those conditions; and succeeded. That city is Rochester, New Hampshire."
